Invitation to Attend

BPW International Pre-Conference 'Leadership Summit'

Saturday December 1st. 2012

9:30 – 12:30

For the first time during the Asia Pacific Regional Conference we are offering the opportunity to attend a pre-conference Leadership Summit run by Past International President Antoinette Ruegg.

Leaders and emerging leaders will develop the necessary know-how and skills to advance the aims and objectives of BPW International by understanding, structures, procedures and the policy-led initiatives that are crucial for affiliates during the triennium.

Reaching the goals of BPW demands a strong organization with well-informed present and future leaders. This entails

- providing important and current information on BPW
- giving direct contacts with BPW International leaders
- encouraging mutual exchange of performance and experience relating to BPW empowerment

Present and future BPW Leaders and BPW members who are motivated to empower BPW and themselves are welcome to attend this first Regional 'Leadership Summit'

This summit promises to challenge and enrich all members who attend

The detailed program will be published on the website at end of October 2012.

Important information not included in the launch of our new web page:

www.bpwnz.org.nz

Well the new website went live on September 19th as planned and am pleased to get back to my own life. The content of the site is very similar to the old site, with a few extras, but a lot easier to find what you're looking for.

The 'Members Only' page is password protected. The password is the same as the old site but the username and password are strung together on one line. Please ask your President or Secretary, or even me at technology@bpwnz.org.nz if you can't work this out. It's worth looking at because most of the BPW documents you need will be here. If not let me know.

Have a look at the 'Club calendar of events' under the 'Home' dropdown menu. Here you will find all the events that I know about, so make sure you make me aware of your events if you want your events to appear here.

Club News is posted on the blog so to get there just click on the orange blog button or on the Recent Updates article leader. You can even leave your feedback on the blog! Now that's something you couldn't do before! With all that I'm looking for some interesting club news, photos and even videos. All these can be uploaded for everyone to enjoy.

Don't forget you can double-click on Issues, Projects and Programmes for a résumé of files and links under that header. The other dropdown menus are self-explanatory.

There are 127 pages on the site plus files and pictures so there is a lot to look at. Don't forget to look at the right hand sidebar for recent updates.

We are still to put together forms that you can pay membership and conference fees etc. on-line and later on pay your BPW merchandise in the same way.

Huge thank you to Brigham Anderson website host, and past secretary Christina Turner for their input, blood sweat and tears getting the website to what it is today in time to go live on time.
